Mr. Dan Itu - Homeroom Teacher

Benedicte has had a somewhat erratic semester, with some very good results in some subjects, while achieving somewhat less than her ability in others. Both the Spanish and Art results are very positive, and show that, when she tries hard, she can do very well. English and Economics are somewhat disappointing, however. Overall, her level of effort has clearly been an issue, with less than satisfactory in four subjects. As her TOK teacher, I am fully aware of the motivational issues that she has. I would urge her, at this stage, to remember that she is fully capable of doing very well in the diploma - she certainly has the intelligence and innate ability to do so. If she can turn around her attitude over the summer, and return to school with the determination to make one final push in her subjects, she will find that the time will go extremely fast. The effort that she could put in, over a very short time, will benefit her for the rest of her life. If she can think in these terms, then perhaps she will be able to achieve to her capability in the diploma.

Extended Essay

Beny's Extended Essay is still very much in its early stages but I think that the general subject area has been successfully established. Beny will have the opportunity over the summer to visit the museum in Albi dedicated to the works of Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec. Before the visit or visits take place she will already have decided which works to focus upon. As much reference and research material as possible will be collected and from there the final target and essential question of Beny's essay will become clear.
