Yr. 12 - Economics (Standard) - Mrs. Kay Tyro

Course Content:

During this term the Year 12 IB Standard- Level Economics students completed their work on Microeconomics and have begun their work on the Macroeconomics Unit. This is, probably, the most important section of the course for the 2007 May examinations and they must have a very solid understanding of this material. The major assessments completed this term were the two tests, one on Aggregate Demand and Supply and more recently, one on GNP, Inflation and Unemployment. Each student has completed a second Commentary and I was impressed with the general improvement, but every student needs to consider Criteria E, Evaluation, with much greater care as this is the one that causes the greatest problem.
